TUESDAY EVE., OCTOBER 12, 1886.

The Republican Nominee for Congress.

There is nothing, absolutely nothing in Judge Thomas' past political life to commend him to the people of this district in the present race for Congress. The reverse is true. There is much to condemn him in the eyes of honest men. As a politician he has been and still is one of the most tricky and unscrupulous men in the district. The Republicans know this and they knew it when they nominated him. But this is neither here nor there. If they wish to run such a man for Congress they can do so.

In 1884, Thomas was elected Circuit Judge of this district. Six years later—in 1890—was a candidate for re-election. There was nothing in his career as Judge to commend him to the people. But there was much to merit their disapproval. In six years he had cost the tax-payers of the State $3,176 by his failure to attend to the discharge of his duties. The people didn't sanction such a record as that, and at the August election that year they defeated him and elected Hon. A. E. Cole, the present incumbent. Shortly after his defeat, he was appointed U. S. District Attorney for this State. His record in this office was no better than his career as Circuit Judge. He was either so incompetent or so derelict in his duties that the Louisville Commercial was led to comment on it.

Thomas now seeks to represent this district in Congress, but we opine that the people have had enough of him. His record shows conclusively that all he is after is the emoluments of the office. What cares he for the people's interests, so long as he can draw a good salary? Nothing at all. We believe many honest Republicans will join with the Democrats and help defeat him next month.

There are twenty-two moonshiners in jail at Covington awaiting trial for a violation of the revenue laws.

The contract to furnish the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum with five hundred jeans suits has been awarded to a Lexington firm.

Twenty-four trains pass over the Cincinnati Southern Railroad every day. Some idea of the business done can be gathered from this.

If there is anything in George Morgan Thomas' past political life to commend him to the people, we should like very much to know what it is.

The proprietors of Harper's Rolling Mill, at Newport, says the Mayville and Big Sandy Railroad will save him $40,000 a year on drayage and bridge toll.

GENERAL DENVER is making a spirited canvass in the district across the river, and the Democrats are hopeful. He has a big majority, however, to overcome.

"Politics is business with me," is a remark made by Judge Thomas at the "side-show." The "great defeated" spoke truly. His past life verifies his statement. The "grand old war-horse" has always been able to draw his salary, and always drew it.

JUDGE THOMAS was an expensive Circuit Judge. In six years he cost the people, the tax-payers of this district over $3,000. We believe many honest, straightforward Republicans are tired of such men as he is, and will vote against him on the 2nd of November.

A. A. LEWIS, editor and proprietor of the Somerset, (Ky.) Republican, has renounced the G. O. P. forever. His paper has heretofore been a bitter partisan, but in its last issue he denounces the Republicans for their non-support, and says he is done with 'em. It is hardly necessary to add that his action caused a sensation.

In the person of General J. W. Denver, Democrats of the district across the river have a nominee whom everyone can heartily support. Pusey, the Republican candidate, is not his equal in any respect. The gerrymandering of the district by the last Legislature made it Republican by a big majority, but Pusey is scared up, and Denver's prospects are growing brighter as the election approaches. There is no telling what can be done by effective work, and the Democrats should keep up their determined fight.

Wonderful Cures.

W. D. Hoyt & Co. Wholesale and Retail Druggists of Rome, Ga., says: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitter and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced Consumption have been entirely cured by the use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by J. C. Peacor & Co.

MOBBING A WITNESS.

Swiss Laborers' Attack Upon a Witness in the Anarchist Trial.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—During the late Anarchist trouble at Detroit, Walter was quite a leader among the men, and when the trial came on appeared as a witness for the state, and gave evidence which did much toward causing the conviction of the prisoners. Many threats were made against him. Last night, accompanied by a friend, he entered a saloon at 110 North Wells street, a favorite gathering place of the Swiss element of the laborers. Some one said: "There is the traitor." Walter attempted to leave the room, but the crowd followed him with cries of "Hang the dog," "choke him," "kill him," etc.

Some one seized him by the throat but Walter shook the man off, and drawing a revolver shot several times into the crowd. For a moment they fell back, but soon came up again and attempted to hang him. Again Walter freed himself and fired into the mass of people. By this time he was nearly to Chicago avenue, and he ran for the police station. Schaeck placed a man in a cell for safety, and sent a squad of men to disperse the crowd and capture the leaders if possible. It could, however, be learned whether he had shot anybody or not.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

A Pretty Variety Actress Killed by Her Jealous Husband at St. Louis.

St. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—As Josie Martell, a pretty variety actress, who has been filling an engagement at Eber's Alhambra theater on St. Charles street, went to prepare herself for the performance, her husband, Frank Sanneyer, entered the dressing room, and without warning drew a revolver and shot her in the breast. He then fled, and with the other plunged a dagger ten inches long into her breast. She broke away and ran into the rear dressing room, where she fell and shortly after expired.

After the woman freed herself from his grasp Sanneyer turned the weapon and thrust it into his own breast several times, only desisting when seized by the special officer of the house. He fell and expired in a few minutes. Both bodies were removed to the morgue. Sanneyer had been extremely jealous of his wife for several weeks and was drinking heavily.

The Anarchists Intervened.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—A reporter visited the condemned Anarchists. Neese expressed his hope that the supreme court would grant a stay of proceedings. Spies was more composed than when in the court room. He spent yesterday over "Childs Harold," and in the evening in reading a prose work of Helius. He thinks that if the Illinois supreme court decided against him the case might be taken to the United States supreme court on a constitutional question—the right of trial by an impartial jury. Schwab, Lingg and Engel were engaged, and paid no attention to things going on outside their cells. Fiedler appeared resigned to his fate, and did not exhibit any signs of despair. Parsons was volatile. He had received some intimation from the outside that the hope of a rehearing was not in vain, and it had renewed his courage. No one of the prisoners seemed to have entirely given up hope of a reversal of the judgment.

A Fire at Ashland, Ohio.

ASHLAND, O., Oct. 12.—Fire broke out this morning about 4:30 in the mow of Mason & Wilcox's livery and feed stable. The stable was burned to the ground. About twenty tons of hay and harness and sleighs were burned. The horses and carriages were saved. The stable was insured in the Ohio Mutual, of Salem, O., for $1,500. The damaged hay, caught fire from the burning barn and was totally destroyed. The greater part of the contents were saved. The hotel was insured in the Knox Mutual, of Mt. Vernon, O., for $5,000. The contents were insured in the Wayne County Mutual for $1,500. Dr. Kinnaman's stable was also totally destroyed. No insurance. Several other buildings were slightly damaged.

The Anchora Arrives.

St. JOHNS, N. F., Oct. 12.—The Anchora arrived this morning. The steamship Maranda, which went out to tow her in, missed her, and she arrived within five miles of this port under sail, when a tug took her in tow and towed her in. The passengers and crew are well. The cause of the vessel's delay was a broken shaft. The intelligence of her proximity to this port was received yesterday, when one of the Anchora's lifeboats and her second officer arrived and asked assistance.

Murdered for Whisky.

CORNSCAN, TEX., Oct. 12.—John T. Palmer, a leading citizen and druggist of Blooming Grove, this county, was fatally cut with a knife in the hands of Otto Alinsworth, a stranger in the place. Alinsworth came into the drug store and asked Dr. Palmer for a prescription upon which he could secure some whisky. Blooming Grove is a small town. The doctor refused to furnish as the man was already drunk, whereupon Alinsworth drew a knife and assaulted the doctor, inflicting fatal wounds. Dr. Palmer fell to the floor and the ruffian escaped.

A Small Chicago Failure.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—The failure of A. A. Dewey, commission merchant trader, is reported. Mr. Dewey was at one time connected in business with T. P. Handy, the Cincinnati engineer of wheel corners. It is said the liabilities are not large.

An Evidence of Affection.

"You don't love me as fondly as you did before we were married," said the husband of a few years.

"Yes, Ed," replied the wife.

"Well, you don't show it as much as you used to," remarked he.

"I don't know how I could show my affection more than I do and still be fashionable," replied she.

"Just mention one little act."

"Didn't I give you new puddle your name for his middle name? What more can you ask? I suppose you think I ought to have given him your full name?"—St. Paul Globe.

Daylight in Sea Depths.

Experiments to determine the depths to which light penetrates the water of the sea have been made during the present year by M. M. F. and Sarasin in the Gulf of Nice. The limit of the daylight about midway during the late weather was found to be about 1,200 feet.—Scientific Journal.

A Basting Machine.

A basting machine that is said to be able to do the work of fifteen girls is being tried in a large clothing house in Boston, and the employees of the house, both girls and men, are considerably excited thereby.
